Dear David,

VRX Short by #1 LTM Analyst

We would like to call special attention to the recent short call on Valeant Pharmaceuticals (VRX:US) by David Trainer of Novo Capital Management, which we unlocked and broadly featured 12 days ago.

With shares of VRX trading down by nearly 50% today, we are pleased to recognize the great call. Incidentally, Mr. Trainer is the newly-anointed #1 LTM analyst on SumZero in our new Rankings feature (see more below) and this piece, which received a note-worthy 2% community rating, has been unlocked for all members to read. Given Trainer's strong performance, we recommend taking a look:

SumZero Launches Member Rankings

Rankings, a new feature designed to identify the SumZero members that most consistently beat the market with their research, is now live. The Rankings feature brings well-deserved recognition to the top alpha generators in the community using a methodology that is agnostic to pedigree, AUM, or past experience.

The SumZero Rankings feature is built upon the risk-adjusted relative returns of members' recommendations. Rankings are fully open to all members, and the following Rankings categories are available to view immediately:

- Best All-Time
- Best Last Twelve Months (LTM)
